MOST IMPORTANT

DISCOVERY OF THE DAY
The Sheep-Farmers and the Public in general.

F. C. Calvert's Phenyline & Therebane's Sheep Salve

The great reputation these specifics have enjoyed in England on account of their extraordinary success in all cases where they have been applied, has induced the proprietor to induce them in this market on account of the immense sheep farming interest of the country. To enable sheep-farmers to obviate in future the enormous losses they sustain yearly, not only in the deterioration of the Sheep, but also, as frequently happens, the loss of the animal itself. It is a powerful antiseptic, and he only asks a fair trial, feeling confident of the result. The following is a list of some of the uses to which these antiseptics may be applied—

In Sheep—To cure maggots, footrot, scab lice, tick.

In Horses Cankers in the feet, grease, yellow, all cangrenous wounds or ulcers, cracked heels, mange &c.

Cows; distemper, and all diseases of the hoofs

For wounds or bruises resulting from accident and for all general Veterinary purposes these remedies are sure. Phenyline is found remarkably successful on the Hospitals, in England for curing Cancer. Terebone is also used for preserving hides, skins and bones from all vermins and insects, the parcels already cured with it in this city and Australia have merited the approval of purchasers in England who report them to be perfectly sound and sweet. The leather made from the hides is also declared to be superior in every respect.

TUESDAY OCTOBER 2[illegible], [illegible]63.

THE RACES.

The Argentine Racing Society had a bumper on Sunday. The stand was crowded to excess, and a vast concourse spread over the course, and many elegant equipages graced the scene.

The day was fine, the only drawback being a little too much dust. The sport was good. Horses of the first class and renown competed, and the contests were unusually good and interesting.

The race meeting of this society would however be very much attractive, were greater order maintained, a clear course kept, and the appointments of the riders better; indeed if the society hope to maintain and increase the popularity of their meetings, they must institute radical reforms in these particulars.

The first race in the programme, a half round, was competed for by four horses, the Saino Loco being a decided favorite. His backers, however, were woefully deceived, as he came in last. The winner, a young mestizo born, Capillero, got away well in hand, and won as he liked.

The second race, once and a half round, was looked upon with much general interest, and betting was free. The contest was of first order, terminating with three out of four starters within a length of each other, Blandengue, an outsider, winning. This race was one of the many instances of injudicious riding, the best horses fighting and pushing all through the long course, and so using themselves up that the 'outside' obtained a victory little expected. Picaso Flojo was second, with Gaucho Pobre at his neck.

The great match between the Cuadril Blanco and the Picaso Creollo did not come off, owing to the lameness of the former.

An impromptu intermedio was run between unknown horses to pass the time till the hour for the great race of the day, in which three renowned horses, Changador, Belgrano, and Municipal were pitted against each other. This contest assumed indeed quite a national character, the native gentlemen and sporting men coming out in great force, backed with any amount of money, in favour of the celebrated Changador, the foreigners supporting with equal spirit the mestizo Belgrano. The distance, once round, was run in the shortest time on record, Belgrano winning as he liked, and thus justifying the foreigners, faith in "the blood."

The race contested by four year old colts fell to the lot of the black colt Congo.

The celebrated 25 de Mayo made his appearance in a match three times round, which he won; his competitor falling lame pulled up.

Another match of interest came off between the colorado Orquesta and a Rabicano mestizo colt, once round. The colt took the lead, and won as he liked. Thus ended a good day's sport.

It is a noticeable fact that the only four mestizos in training in the country ran on Sunday, and three out of the four won—the Gaucho Pobre alone failing to carry off a prize.

Several private matches afterwards came off, but all the people commenced moving off the ground highly pleased with the day's work. The hotels, particularly those of Messrs. Champion and Deacon, were quite busy up to a late hour. The trains were all heavily laden, and arrived without any accidents happening. We would suggest a little more preparation at the stations on such occasions—as opening a half door for a rush of 1500 people is rather a dangerous trick, and particularly so to ladies.

THE NEW JUDGE.

We noticed in Sunday's paper the discontent at present existing in the Cabildo, caused by the nomination of Sr. Dominguez to one of the vacant judgeships. It was rumoured that all the judges of the First Instance had resigned, because the Governor had departed from the established custom of naming the judges from the 'Terna' or list sent, in order to oblige his Finance Minister. Yesterday we heard that the Cabildo was in a perfect uproar, and all the legal business of the country suspended. The main objection is that Governor Saavedra has thought proper to prefer a man whose only qualification is said to be his relationship with one of the Ministers. We take sides with the judges of the land, with those men who have passed so many years as judges of an inferior court. They have most just cause of complaint, and the Minister who tries to oust their claims merely for the purpose of advancing his brother, or the Governor who is a party to such conduct, merits only the contempt and derision of his fellow citizens.

The 'compadre' system, we all know, goes a long way in this country, but we never imagined that it entered into the judge's ermine.

Sr. Dominguez, the Minister, has more claims upon us as an historian than financier; but we doubt if, with all his historic lore, he can point to an instance of greater political corruption than the nomination of his own brother to an office to which, if report be true, he is neither qualified nor legally eligible.

Uncle to an editor, brother to a minister, and compadre with very possibly the Governor himself, Sr. Dominguez finds himself in the perplexing dilemma of having honours heaped upon him from all sides. He is first named Federal Judge by Mitre, for the district of Buenos Ayres; and before he has time to read the first page of Cantilo's translation of Story, which, we suppose, he bought for the occasion, he finds himself elevated from the post which he never got time to occupy, and named actually one of the first judges of the land. The zampillerostation leap of the Lees brothers was nothing to this. Young Lee took three bounds to clear the Colon, but Dominiguez, in two jumps, sweeps clear over every judge, lawyer, escribano, and procurator in the city.

The elevation of this gentleman has been so sudden, his claims upon the public so limited, his talents so questionable, his experience so unknown, that we fear his judicial career will come to a rather unpleasant conclusion. The gifted historian should read 'Young's Night Thoughts.'

Pignies are pignies, though perched on Alps.

We regret sincerely being obliged to call public attention to this matter, but we feel for those gentlemen whose rights have been so flagrantly trampled on.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The races on Sunday proved rather favourable for foreigners. The 'Capillero,' Mr. John Cullen's horse, contrary to general expectation, won the first race. 'Belgrano,' Mr. James White's favourite racer, also won easily: but we refer our readers to particulars in another column.

The drought is becoming most alarming. Farmers north, south, and west, are becoming nervous; they say, if no rain comes in October, the probability is, that the scorching November sun will burn up the grass and destroy the camp.

There is a tide to the frontier lands this year. The enormous rents asked for land, within fifty leagues of Buenos Ayres, compel thousands to face the pampa. But foreigners refuse to avail themselves of the Gainza law, on account of the compulsive military service. So long as this obligation is limited to a defence of the frontier, where the owner's property is situated, there would be no objection to the clause, but to render oneself liable to be dragged from his farm, to fight for or against some embryo Flores, is the very last thing a foreigner should think of; better pay a small rent to some impoverished frontier native, than acquire title to Government lands by the confiscation of one's liberty and independence.

Dr. Dn. Miguel Garcia Fernandez has been appointed, Juez 1st Instancia, in room of Dr. Gonzalez, who has been elevated to the Supreme Court.

Sr. Billinghurst has addressed a letter to the editors of the 'Tribuna,' respecting the San Franciscan scandal, and blames the authorities for allowing the cause of all the scandal to escape to Montevideo. Sr. Billinghurst, however, forgot to remark that the only paper which called attention to the matter was the 'Standard.'

We perceive that Minister Acosta has instituted a new measure for the purpose of appointing judges in commission. We suppose that it is some effort to resuscitate the almost expired 'Tribunal de Comercio.' Fifty merchants are to be selected each year, and of those ten are to be selected for judges. We do not think that the Minister's scheme will ever result in anything.

We have received a copy of Mr. Hinchliffe's 'South American Sketches,' and will review it in a day or two. The book is very nicely got up with coloured engravings, and on sale at Messrs. Makern's, in front of the Cathedral, price $130 m/c.

We perceive that the example set by the British clerks, in forming a provident society, has not been without effect. The clerks in the Custom-house have established a similar society, the rules and regulations of which have been published in Sunday's 'Nacion Argentina.'

Town was rife yesterday with all sorts of rumours about Flores. It was generally believed that Flores had defeated Waldino Urquiza and Lamas, and was at the head of 3,500 men, ready to sweep the whole country and march on Montevideo. We give this report as being current about town, and should regret sincerely to think it was true.

The Baron Maua, it is said, has gone up the Uruguay, armed with terms of peace. We hope that such is really the case, as every day seems to lessen the prospect of subjugating Flores. Our friends in Montevideo blame us for preaching peace, but we regard Flores, in the Banda Oriental, like the Chacho in Los Llanos. They are ruining their respective countries, without the slightest hope of bettering themselves. It is really a most monstrous thing to think that two men can, notwithstanding the unanimous wish for peace, keep this and the adjoining republics in such a scandalous ferment.

BANDA ORIENTAL.

The premier, Nin Reyes, has published a general amnesty in favor of all deserters. It has to be seen how many will accept the boon? The 'Pais' has a determined article condemning all arrangement with the rebels, other than the halter. The Oriental fleet (Pulaski, Villa Salto, and Treinta y Tres) arrived in Montevideo, on Friday, from the river Uruguay: they report having seen no whaleboats or filibusters, and improperly conclude that all talk of expeditions from Buenos Ayres is mere humbug. Calvo's correspondent, however, states that one Reitú owner of a mill near the Residencia, has enlisted his own peons and other Italians to the number of 150, whose object is to seize the town of Salto. Colonel Olid is very sick, and fears are entertained that he will not recover.

Waldino Urquiza and Villaboas have scoured the departments of Salto and Paysandú, in every direction, without finding any rebel stragglers: they are, of course, hiding in the woods. The divisions of Paysandú, Salto, and Tacuarembó, in union with the Entre Rian volunteers, including Lamela, Nadal, Telmo Lopez, and W. Urquiza, are about to be formed into the 3rd corps d'armée, under Brigadier Lamas, to operate North of the Arapey, against the rebels. The Union batt. is in garrison at Salto. W. Urquiza, by latest report, was encamped near that town, at a place called San Antonio, with 400 volunteers, and 2000 horses. On the 16th Lamas intended to unite all these forces and take the field in person. The Argentine war-vessels continue to maintain their hostile position in the Uruguay. The Gefe of Paysandú had demanded the surrender of 4 deserters who had taken refuge on board: this will, probably, be refused.

It is rumored in Montevideo that the Brazilian Government has despatched 5,000 men to Rio Grande, to overawe some inferior magistrates of the frontier, who favored Flores.

The authorities of Concordia, at the request of the Oriental vice-consul, have arrested over 20 filibusters, of different nations, with arms in their hands, who were sent up by the revolutionary committee of Buenos Ayres, in the last trip of the 'Salto.' Several others escaping were pursued by the police of Entre Rios, as far as Mocoreta on the frontier of Corrientes, where a band of Correntine adventurers was assembled under one Saldanha. On learning the capture of their friends, they began to disperse, and Saldanha, endeavouring to detain them, was killed on the spot.

The tenor Lelmi's benefit was very successful, more than 1,000 persons attending the Ballo en Maschera, which was well sung, except by the chorus. A grand English Bazaar is to take place, shortly, at Solis theatre, for benefit of the British Hospital. Don Manuel Flores (probably a relative of the General's) has been set at liberty on the guarantee of M. Paul Duplesis. The ladies of Montevideo, like some fair Argentines, have adopted the fashion of hair powdering, a la Louis XIV. Dr Pedro Bourse, the dentist, has sent a forged 1 dollar note to the 'Reforma' office, to caution the public, as many such are in circulation, and the police cannot detect the forgers: it is printed on green paper of very transparent quality.

The 'Reforma' states "on reliable authority," that Flores is in Cerros Blancos, whither he fled precipitately when Medina pressed him at Paso del Rey. It is said all his Oriental levies have abandoned him, and his forces, about 800 in number, are mostly (500) Brazilians, of whom 70 are infantry. This news is confirmed by a capataz of Don Francisco Gonzalez who escaped on the 8th inst. from the rebel infantry.

The Montevidean press salutes the Buenos Ayrean pianist Ferrari, and with like generosity advocates a Benefit to raise funds for sending to Europe the infant musical artist Liguori.

LATEST FROM E. RIOS.

Dates are up to Saturday morning 17th inst. from Concepcion.

Urquiza's official paper "Uruguay" has some strong invectives against the press of B. Ayres, and states that the authorities of Paraná are nowise blameable for Cerriego's phrenzies. The new editor (possibly Dr. Victorica) indorses the bellicose sentiments of "El Pueblo," and charges the "N. Argentina" with exaggerated calumny, respecting the riot at Victoria. No doors were broken, no papers destroyed; only a few drunken fellows made a noise outside which was quickly stopped by the police.

The elections, for Concepcion, Gualeguaychú, Gualeguay, Nogoyà, Concordia; Victoria, Diamante, Paranà and La Paz, of Deputies to the Provincial Chambers, are to take place on the 1st and 2nd prox. M. Larroque positively denies that he knows anything about the alleged mission of Baron Mauá to General Urquiza, for the arrangement of existing difficulties. The Galvan family publish a notice that they are about to purchase some Government land which they hold in Enfiteusis (squatter's right) at a place called Peruchin Verna, adjoining one of Gen. Urquiza's large estancias.

URUGUAY STEAM-TRANSIT.

TO THE EDITORS.

Gualeguaychù, Oct. 17, '63.

I have taken the liberty of addressing the enclosed circular, not with the idea of inducing you to become shareholders in the undertaking to which it refers, but because you are strenuous supporters of all measures which tend to develope and improve the resources of this rich province.

But although I cannot expect you to join in the enterprise, not being strictly speaking commercial men, you have it in your power, by the use of your able pen, to render valuable assistance to the efforts of a few leading men here, whose chief interest is, to advance the prosperity of this neglected country.

You will have to confess that although this is an out-of-the-way place with an out-landish name there are some go-a-head people of your own stamp who have here their residence.

The 'Era' building in Buenos Ayres by our countryman Mr. John Marshall, is the steamer referred to in this circular.

I have not seen her since she was put on the stocks, but I am informed by our Inspecting Engineer Mr. Gallagher, that she is an excellent model for the purpose for which she is intended, and stronger than the best boat on the river.

Her engines will arrive from England during the ensuing month, and are built by the eminent firm of Thompson & Co. of Newcastle-on-Tyne.

They are first class, and for the size of the boat exceedingly powerful, consisting of two low-pressure oscillators of 40 horses collective.

Our engineer in England calculates that the 'Era' will attain a speed of considerably more than 12 miles an hour.

With this brief notice I conclude, trusting that you will not refuse your powerful aid on behalf of an undertaking which has for its object the advancement of the commercial interests of this our adopted country.

I remain, &c.,
T. M.

YOUNG DRAYMAN.

This is the name of the splendid Entire horse imported last week by Sor. Martinez de Hoz.

Yesterday we inspected this magnificent animal: he is only 3 years old, 17 hands high, and of enormous proportions. His total cost placed here, we understand, is $ 1,030 fuertes. He is apparently shorter in the limbs than Mr. White's Stallion, and more corpulent; gentle as a lamb, and can be led any where by the Groom.

YOUNG DRAYMAN was bred by Mr Thomas Holland, of Goose Tree Hall, Chesire, near Darbyshire, out of his celebrated black mare got by Mr. Rushton's Honest Ben, which was unfortunately burned to death. Honest Ben was noted to be the truest bred waggon horse in England. It is quite useless to say anything more about this Colt as anyone thoroughly acquainted with Dray Horses will at once pronounce him a pure bred Waggon Colt.

POOR FLORES

Montevideo, Oct. 18, 1863.

Gentlemen,

Here is the latest news from the country—

Medina has pursued Flores up to the Paso Mansanjano, where he left off his pursuit, and following this side of the Rio Negro, must find himself to day on Paso de Polancos of the same river.

The plan of the old general is obvious, as Flores' intention cannot be to remain in the department of Tacuarembo effectively. After having plundered the commerce of the city of that name, in the most infamous manner, the Libertador began to march in the direction of Arroyo Malo, which empties itself into the river Negro, his object being not to pass that river, in which case he would meet with General Medina, but to fall back upon the department of Paysandu and Salto, and there, by the division of his troops into a multitude of small groups, to disturb the military organisation of the north of the Rio Negro. He had made the same attempt in the south, but without success, and it is supposed will equally fail in this attempt. The number of his men is every day decreasing, and the amnesty offered by the Government to all those who will abandon the revolutionary forces, has already begun to produce the most salutary effects.

Money market easy. I heard of no sales of any importance to day. Wine falling: many arrivals and little demand. Exchange 51¼c. 51⅛.

Yours truly,

DIOGENES.

Important Discovery.

We read in the "Nacion Argentina' that there has been discovered in the Misiones a rich marble quarry: it is said to be very valuable. After a deal of trouble a beautiful slab was extracted. The slab was four yards wide, and of a beautiful color. The country people have crowded to the spot, and it is thought that samples of the marble will shortly arrive in Salto, B.O.

The San Juan Mines.

We understand that the machinery which was purchased in England was shipped for Rosario on Saturday.

Our talented fellow-countryman, Mr. Rickard, and lady, leave to-day for San Juan, accompanied by Mr. Heartley, Mr. R.'s brother-in-law. We hope they will have a pleasant journey, and that the rumoured peace with the Chacho will be definitely concluded before they leave Roserio.

MONT BLANC.

The celebrated tourist, the late Albert Smith, used to relate that in the last village ere he reached the summit of Mont Blanc (Chamouni, which may be said to be in the clouds), he found it, to his surprise, posted over with Holloway's placards, and discovered that his Ointment and Pills were there sold, in large quantities, at a little grocer's shop. "Afterwards," said he, "when I went to China, there again Holloway stared me in the face. If I went into a house to purchase any trifling article, I was immediately asked if I did not want some of Holloway's Pills. At last I became so annoyed with repetitions of these impertinent inquiries, that I exclaimed, 'Hang the fellow and his Pills too! I wish he was here in Hong-Kong, or in some warmer place.' 'Oh! but,' said a shopkeeper, 'I keep two old French missionaries travelling for Holloway in different parts of China, selling his medicine, with their directions in Chinese, and their sale is immense.' After this incident I seriously began to examine myself, to know if I looked ill; but, to my entire satisfaction, I found my face and feelings pass muster well; but still I could not help expressing astonishment at the wonderful enterprise of this man, who has, by his industry, made his name so universally known to the four corners of the earth; and I concluded that there certainly must be some extraordinary virtues in his medicines, or they would have exploded years ago, as the best of things soon wear themselves out, whereas these two medicines appear to have taken a firm hold of nearly the whole human race."

We don't presume to say that there is any particular mystery about either Holloway's Pills or his Ointment, but that he has been fortunate enough to offer to the public two very useful medicines, there can be no doubt. His theory appears to be that the blood is the fountain of life, and that this living fluid is every moment undergoing a change, and that whatever is best adapted to preserve its purity must, of course, be the means also of preserving health. That Holloway has, by a lucky hit—whether by chance or otherwise discovered certain ingredients admirably adapted to accomplish this end, cannot be gainsayed, as we have heard that all disorders of the liver and stomach yield to the influence of his Pills—not that we have ever tried them, nor is there any desire on our part to do so as we have a particular aversion to all kinds of medicine. Our worthy father died at the ripe age of ninety-five, and never took a dose in his life, and we hope to do the same.—Boston Traveller.

IRELAND IN THE AUTUMN OF 1863.

After passing the Cashel Station at Goold's Cross the railway takes a south easterly direction towards the town of Tipperary. The Dundrum Station, which is first passed, stands in the Dundrum demesne, in the midst of the extensive plantations of Viscount Hawarden. Leaving Dundrum, the road lies through a fertile, well cultivated valley, producing the finest crops of wheat, oats, turnips, potatoes, and farmed by a population who have every appearance of comfort and respectability. Much time is used in dressing the land. From Dundrum to Tipperary lofty, well wooded, and well cultivated hills line both sides of the road, and approaching Tipperary these rise into the great chain or group of the Galty Mountains, which are considered the finest of the inland mountain ranges of Ireland. The Galties rise at some points to the height of upwards of 3000 feet—a height equal to that of Snowdon or Ben Lomond.

Before turning off to the right, to Limerick, we shall follow this beautiful and picturesque line of country down to Charleville, on the southern limit of the county of Tipperary, and of the Golden Vale, so far as it is contained in that county.

From the Limerick Junction to the Kilmallock Station, the line of railway passes through a continuation of the same rich and beautiful valley which we have already decribed. The crops of grain were large and ripe, and many of them were cut in the last week in August. The Galty Mountains still present their noble outline, their fertile sides, and their deep recesses and ravines. The Knocklong Station stands at the foot of a woody hill, crowned with a graceful spire and adorned with the ruins of an ancient castle. The soil is of extraordinary depth and richness; the grass and cattle are fine, the turnip crops extensive and well managed.

Kilmallock is a place of great antiquity, and contains many remains of the once powerful Desmond branch of that great race of the Fitzgeralds, whose name has always been famous in Irish history, and the head of which is Duke of Leinster even in our quiet times. The farming in this neighbourhood is excellent, and the farmers in their anxiety to make it better are said to have even carted away a portion of the "Great Rath," which was formerly one of the most interesting of the antiquities of the place, to manure their fields.

From Knockmallock to Charleville, on the borders of the county of Cork, the land is chiefly in grass. It is covered with herds of cattle and flocks of sheep, and is everywhere richly wooded. The hills continue to the left, there being several peaks of from 1500 to 1700 feet in height to the east of the Charleville Junction.

Before proceeding to Cork from Charleville, we propose to cross the plain of Limerick station to that city and the banks of the Shannon.

The Limerick junction, about three miles from the town of Tipperary; stands in one of the richest grazing districts of Ireland. The Galty Mountains approach nearly close to the station on the east, and on the west a wide plain extends towards Limerick. A fair quantity of grain and roots is grown on this plain, and on the lower slopes of Slievephelim Mountain and Cahirconlish Hills, but much the greater part of the land is in pasture. The plain of Limerick is believed to be the richest grazing district in the United Kingdom. Much hay is made for the winter keep of the cattle, and very large crops of turnips are grown for the same purpose. In this neighbourhood, as in all parts of Ireland, turnip husbandry is spreading. The Earl of Derby has a large and well managed estate near the Limerick Junction. The Earl of Stradbroke has also an extensive estate near the Dromkeen station; and near the Boher station is the Cahirconlish estate, belonging to Mr. Wilson, situated in an undulating and fertile country. Glenstal Castle stands high up in the Slievephelim Mountain, commanding an extensive view of the plain and of the distant hills. All through this district the corn crops are good, and the dryness of the summer has not destroyed the richness of the pastures.

The city of Limerick owes its origin and its wealth to the noble river Shannon. The estuary of the Shannon opens a passage eleven miles wide to vessels entering from the Atlantic, and presents many safe anchorages for shipping on both sides of the stream. At Foynes, on the Limerick side of the estuary, there is a natural harbour with depth of water said to be sufficient to receive the largest steamer afloat. Five miles below Limerick there is water for a ship of 1000 tons, and vessels of 400 tons can go up to the present harbour of the city.

The river Shannon is beyond all comparison the greatest stream of fresh water in the United Kingdom, and it is kept constantly full by the great natural reservoirs of Lough Derg, Lough Ree, and some twenty or thirty other lakes. Though divided and compressed by piers at the Wellesley Bridge, Limerick, the Shannon is still a most noble river, reminding one more of the large streams of the continent than of any other British river.

THE FLORES WAR.

And now the diligence arrives from Cerro Largo, and the fact, gloomily significant for the Government, is placed beyond a doubt, that Flores, followed at the distance of upwards of a day's march by Medina, had formerly retired from El Yi, in the direction of Cerro Largo, and at length, on the 6th inst., had passed the Rio Negro, in the pass of Masangarro, with a force of from 1500 to 1600 men, leaving Medina very comfortably encamped in Fraile Muerto.

Flores, ere this, will most probably have arrived in Tacuarembo, where he will have been joined by forces under the command of Santana, Saldanha, Chucano, and other officers. It is reported in Government circles that a force under the command of Enrique Castro has passed the Uruguay, and now holds in check Lamas and Waldino Urquiza in Salto, whose military operations have hitherto been limited to the performing of such exploits as the expedition against Regalado and the raid on Señor Tejos' property, the cutting the throat of a poor man whose only crime was desertion, and such like deeds.

If I have dwelt so long on these facts, and on the detail of military movements that will have no interest for the majority of your numerous readers, it has been with the object of proving to you that the 'Standard' has really been badly informed as to the extent and character of the present struggle in the Banda Oriental. The war has not come to a close; it may last many months, and even years, unless peace is brought about through timely concessions to party interests.

The party which Flores represents in the field is powerful in point of numbers, formidable by the intelligence and social position of its representative men, and united in a bond of union which the present struggle has served to draw closer—a union cemented with the blood of some of the best and worthiest members of the colorado party who fell victims at Quinteros to an act of treachery committed by those who now rule the destinies of the nation.

On the other hand, the Government party is strong, surrounded as it is with that halo of prestige which all constituted authority enjoys. It is strong, because it disposes of the State revenues and mortgages the state credit at its will. It is thus able to carry on the struggle in spite of the impolitic and unhesitating conduct of the President, in spite of a grossly immoral administration, and notwithstanding the recognised imbecility and culpable inactivity of its generals in the field, of the fatal blundering and wrangling of its ministers in the Cabinet.

To the unwise conduct of ministers, to official imprudence, is to be attributed in a great measure that gradual alienation of the sympathies of the foreign population, and consequent loss of its decided moral support, and of the bitter hatred which the Italian population, en masse, bears to the Government and to the Blanco party. And this is not to be wondered at, Mr. Editor, when we bear in mind that this party consider the Italians as their natural foes; and we cannot be, therefore, surprised when we hear in public those cries which latterly have so constantly shocked our ears in the streets of Montevideo, of "Down with the Gringos," &c. We have heard these cries, and I, for one, Mr. Editor, have seen with pain the general applause with which they have been received.

Can we wonder, then, at the burning indignation with which Italians generally regard the present administration and the party in power, when a whole system of petty persecution, of threats in public, and violence and wrong in private, are allowed, if not authorised by the authorities. What should we say, Mr. Editor, if cries of "Mueran los Ingleses," and threats of cutting our own throats were to be heard in the streets and at the doors of our houses?

The rumours of peace are growing more distinct every day, but the difficulties in the way of a settlement are almost insurmountable. But if the Government is not disposed to treat with General Flores, let it prepare energetically for war, for the time seems now at hand when the revolutionary movement is preparing to enter on a new phase. Its army is every day gaining strength, increasing in numbers, and improving in discipline. General Canavano, I am assured on almost unquestionable authority, has entered the field with a large force in favour of the revolution. The elements of discord are weakening the collective action of the Government; the public grow every day more indignant at finding themselves so cajoled by false news conveyed to them through official despatches, and public confidence is already deeply shaken in the stability of a Government that tries to sustain its failing credit by the publication of false news. The Government balance, owing to Mauá, has reached a limit which even Mauá will scarcely dare allow to pass without further security: and all this with an enemy in the field growing stronger daily, and emboldened by the perfect impunity in which he is left to carry out his plans for the coming campaign.

We have been officially informed, over and over again, that the Government forces under the command of Generals Medina and Moreno number, at least, 6000 men of all arms. With such a body of troops, how is it possible that Flores should have been allowed to pass the Rio Negro as he has just done?

OBSERVATOR.

Montevideo, Oct. 14, 1863.

LOCAL EVENTS.

SUDDEN DEATH.—During the races yesterday a man dropped down dead on the course. The cause is supposed to have been sun stroke.

THE MERSEY sails this month on the 26th, owing to her requiring repairs. This may make her late next mouth with the mails from Europe.

A SHEEP AUCTION took place on Sunday at Moreno: the sheep were sold at $32 dollars.

THE CAMPS in the south are in great want of rain. We trust before long to have a good shower.

WAR STEAMERS.—We note the arrival in Montevideo of the Oriental steamers 'General Antigas,' 'Trienta y Tres,' and 'Villa del Salto.'

ACCIDENT.—On Friday afternoon, in the Calle Belgrano, a child was run over by a cart, causing its immediate death.

THE NORTHERN RAILWAY was crowded yesterday to excess. Besides the number of people who went to the races, a great many went to San Isidro.

EL RACIONALISTA.—The great reformer, Amadeo d'Errecart, is in the field again, editing a new paper, the 'Racionalista.' Pages Nos. 1 and 2 are the justification of slavery, the sale of man founded on Biblical quotations, while pages 3 and 4 contain an attack on the sale of women, by a jilted lover, against avaricious parents. Our great religious reformer is evidently a gallant editor but a weak logician.

ERRATA.—In Saturday's paper the amount collected in Montevideo for the Lancashire fund should have been £423 3s. 3d. In our last issue, respecting the festivities at Paranà, read anniversary of 'Cepeda,' not 'Pavon.'

ON 'CHANGE

Oct. 19.

The dullest place in town to-day was the Bolsa. Up to half-past one o'clock there was scarcely a soul to be seen in the Hall. A few ounce brokers might be remarked strolling through the liquidation room, but whether owing to the heaviness of the atmosphere, or the utter absence of speculators, they seemed to lack that elasticity of motion for which ounce brokers are usually so proverbial.

The Flores victory was talked over until people got fairly tired of the subject. The interesting 'Tribuna' supplements lay unread on the benches. The fact is, Flores is at a discount on the Bolsa. We regret, however, to say that the victory of the revolutionists is not destitute of importance. Suarez surprised a body of Lamas's men near Salto: the 'blancos' numbered 100 and the 'colorados' 400. Suarez killed ten of the blancos, and the rest took to their heels, entering Salto pell-mell. Flores, it appears, knows nothing of this astounding feat of his lieutenant, and is wandering about on the confines of Brazil, Medina pursuing him, but taking good care never to overtake him.

The state of Entre Rios is represented as extremely revolutionary, and many are of opinion that neither the Governor nor the President will be able to restrain the revolutionists. We do not, however, apprehend so much trouble from that quarter, as we believe the sinews of disturbance are wanting.

The rumoured failure which we noticed on Saturday, is, we are happy to say, only a suspension, as one of the partners, we hear, inherits large property from his father, who was one of the wealthiest traders in the Boca.

We notice the formation of a new steam packet company in Gualeguaychu. From the names of the directors, we are led to regard it as one of the most respectable companies in that province. The following are the names of the directors:—D. Apolinario Benites, Domingo Garbino, J. A. Spangenberg, Manuel Magnasco, Tomas Menzies. We hope the company will be successful.

We are happy to inform our readers, that the statement which we translated from the 'Mercurio,' respecting the destruction of the Vanderbilt, is altogether incorrect. We have been favoured with a paper from the Cape of Good Hope, which states that the Vanderbilt was in that neighbourhood about the 1st of September. We shall publish to morrow the full particulars.

Probably, nothing can be a greater proof of the steady progress of Buenos Ayres, than the present prices asked and paid for real estate in this city. The lot of ground adjoining the Bolsa, which, we believe, belongs to Sr. Bosh, is about being improved. Certain parties applied to the owner to purchase the site, which is about 3[illegible] feet by 60 feet. The price asked, we learn, is 7000 ounces, nearly £24,000. No doubt, if in New York or London a higer price would be asked.

Ounces opened at 433, and ran down, closing weak at 430½. Cash sales, 1327.

The explosion of a lot of wax matches beneath the boots of some of our most distinguished brokers, bankers, and banker brokers, caused considerable alarm for a moment, but happily resulted in only a laugh.

In exchange we notice an abundance of drawers. About £5000 was done to-day at 67s.

Ten thousand sheep have been sold in the south at $46, with the wool.

Important Notice ! ! !

The undersigned begs to advise the Estancieros, and all interested in sheep, that after an unavoidable delay he has at last received a fresh invoice of the celebrated SOUTH DOWN SHEEP WASH or PURE EXTRACT OF TOBACCO, the most popular and effectual remedy for the Scab in Sheep ever used in this country. For sale wholesale and retail at

Messrs. BARRY and WALKER'S,
Corner of Calles Defensa and Moreno.
Chas. S. Bowers Sole Agent.

The S. Down Sheep Wash.
A SURE CURE FOR THE SCAB IN SHEEP

No Sheep-Farmer should be without it.

The valuable preparation which is now used by nearly all the wool growers of this country, is a concentrated extract, one pound of which is equal to ten pounds of tobacco, retaining in this compact form all the properties of the raw material. The only labor required to render the wash ready for use, is, to stir the paste into the quantity of cold water, needed for the number of sheep to be cured.

The most satisfactory recommendations of its perfect safety, simplicity and utility from the principal Estancieros of this country may be had on application at the above establishment

English Grammar School,
CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS.
Dor.—Mr. Pongerard, of the London University College.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English School, where a sound commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.

An over-watchful and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and propriety, are a sufficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French, and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

Offices—87 CALLE SAN MARTIN.

The want has long been felt of an establishment wherein the frugal and laborious citizen might deposit his savings, so as to incur no risk, and reap at the same time a good return.

This institution is calculated to answer such a purpose extending the benefits of the establishment to even the humbler classes.

Public attention is, therefore, specially called to the manner of suscription, and the inversion of funds, according to the rules of the association

THE PREVISORA ARGENTINA will receive suscriptions as follows:

1st. On one's own life, in shares of $5 silver each. These subscriptions liquidated at any time, at the subscriber's option.

2nd. Without loss of capital by death of the insurer. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and on the proportional interest forfeited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however is returned.

3rd With loss of capital and interest by insurer's death. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportional part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class.

All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half-yearly, or yearly.

The capital of the Co. shall be invested only in landed property (fincas), and with the greatest security.

The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Co.

For further particulars, apply at the Co's office 87 calle S. Martin [altos,] between the hours of 11 — 4; prospectuses given on application. o 8. 8p

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA & Co.

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days; and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p%] per annum which is liquidated every six months

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
